

loved by so many. Danny is always working but still manages to have time to help a good cause. He listens before he speaks and takes to heart what you are saying. Thank you Danny, Mandisa, Adesola, and Esailama Artry-Diouf for helping make this a special book and thinking of others such as the public schools which appreciate your support. Adesola, it is time for us to get back in the kitchen together. Maybe we can make some of your granddaddy's sweet potato pie!
